Mark your calendars! Our next Community Informational Meeting, focusing on the History of Water Planning, will be held July 28, 2010

Has the City of Santa Cruz built any new water system infrastructure since the 1970's? Did Soquel Creek Water District ever consider drawing water off Soquel Creek? Learn why desalination was identified as the preferred alternative for supplementing our water supplies to address drought and groundwater overdraft.

Come and learn more about the history of water planning for the City of Santa Cruz and Soquel Creek Water District and how current water policy has evolved at our next Community Informational Meeting on July 28, 2010. An overview of the integrated water planning processes and the various projects that have been evaluated will be presented. The meeting will be held at the Santa Cruz Police Department Community Room (155 Center St, Santa Cruz) from 6:30-8:30 PM.
